This editable resource is an editable Google Slide presentation and provides a structured framework for setting and communicating expectations effectively. Review it with your class to establish clear rules and behavioral norms with your students during the first week of school. Engage students in a discussion about the importance of expectations and have them reflect on how these rules create a positive learning environment. For your convenience, a PDF version is included if you would like to print and post in your classroom as a reminder. Review these expectations periodically, especially after breaks or when behavior concerns arise.
