My name is Devon Cox. I was born and raised in the Mission Valley and am now raising my 6 children with my wife Lizzy in Polson, MT. Case(12), Trafford(9), Sander (7), Lena (7), Whit (4), Miller (2).

I enjoy sports, hunting, music and surrounding myself with family and friends. My spare time is spent coaching youth sports in Polson.

Dana Hewankorn

Hi I'm Dana Hewankorn. I live in Elmo and have lived in the Elmo/Dayton community since 1996. My family has always lived in the area. I have a large blended family and have had kids in the Polson District for decades. I am currently raising 4 grandchildren and they attend Linderman and Polson Middle School. I have worked for the Tribes since 1993. In 2000, I began working at the Tribal Education Department where I was a parent and student advocate. In 2015 she transferred to The People's Center where I was the Education Coordinator. In 2018 I took a position with Tribal Health Reason To Live Native Suicide Prevention Program. This February, I returned to Tribal Education as the Project Aware Program Manager. I hold an Associates degree in Native American Studies and one in Tribal Historic Preservation. I also have a Bachelor's degree in Tribal Historic Preservation. These degrees were all earned from Salish Kootenai College. I also have a Masters in Tribal Administration and Governance from the University of Minnesota Duluth.

Nathaniel Netzer

I grew up in Mandan, North Dakota and have now lived in Polson for ten years. My wife Brooke Wegner & I have 4 children. Our oldest is in 2nd grade and will have another attending kindergarten in the fall. I attended Bismarck State College and NDSU, earning my degree in Instrumentation and Control where I used those skills in oil fields for eight years. I currently work at the Weyerhaeuser Columbia Falls MDF manufacturing facility. I believe my insight in blue collar work can help facilitate the continued growth of our technology, trades, and alternative education programs. By broadening educational options, students who graduate from the Polson School District would have the opportunity to be competitive anywhere in the country.
