Unit 1 Primary Source Readings By:

Instructions:

For each slide, please complete a CPS strategy analysis of the document. When finished, please copy and paste a link of this document into the turn in box also listed on the class website.

- C Context: What is this about? (What would the title be?)
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

Why stand we here idle? What is it that gentlemen wish? What would they have? Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death! - Patrick Henry

C - Context: What is this about?

P - Point: What are they saying? What's the point?

S - Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

"When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the cause which impel them to the separation." -Declaration of Independence

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

"We hold these truths to be self- evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." - Declaration of Independence

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

"[T]o secure these [basic] rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed..." - Declaration of Independence

"[T]hat whenever any form of government becomes destructive [in protecting rights and responding to the people], it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government..." - Declaration of Independence

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

"The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having, in direct object, the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States." - Declaration of Independence

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

"In every state of these oppressions, we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant is unfit to be the ruler of a free people." - Declaration of Independence

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

"We, therefore...solemnly publish and declare, that these united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states..." - Declaration of Independence

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

(39) No free man shall be seized or imprisoned, or stripped of his rights or possessions, or outlawed or exiled, or deprived of his standing in any other way, nor will we proceed with force against him, or send others to do so, except by the lawful judgment of his equals or by the law of the land. - Magna Carta

C - Context: What is this about?

P - Point: What are they saying? What's the point?

S - Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

And for and upon every paper, commonly called a pamphlet, and upon every newspaper, containing publick news, intelligence, or occurrences, which shall be printed, dispersed, and made publick, within any of the said colonies and plantations, and for and upon such advertisements as are herein after mentioned, the respective duties following (that is to say). For every other almanack or calendar for any one particular year, which shall be written or printed within the said colonies or plantations, a stamp duty of four pence. . . . - Stamp Act 1765

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

To CONCLUDE, however strange it may appear to some, or however unwilling they may be to think so, matters not, but many strong and striking reasons may be given to show that nothing can settle our affairs so expeditiously as an open and determined declaration for independence. - Common Sense

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

Each state retains its sovereignty, freedom, and independence, and every Power, Jurisdiction and right, which is not by this confederation expressly delegated to the United States, in Congress assembled. - The Articles of Confederation

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

- C Context: What is this about?
- P Point: What are they saying? What's the point?
- S Significance: Why is what they are saying important?

