

deciduous

losing leaves every year

shutterstock.com • 1189471933

pollination

a process when pollen is spread from flower to flower

plants

are living things that need food, water, and air to survive

shutterstock.com • 1855285046

soil

Top layer of dirt where seeds and plants can grow

sapling

a young tree

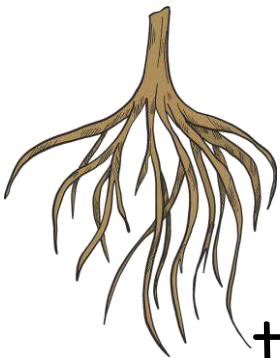

seeds

The small protected part of a plant that are able to grow into a new plant.

evergreen

A tree that has green leaves all year.

roots

the part of the plant that keep it in the ground and take up food and water.

petals

The colored outer part of the flowers.

crops

Plants that are grown in large numbers for people to use.