

UpCycling: Turn something old into something new

Reduce Reuse Recycle for a better planet.

Directions

1. Find something old, or that no longer serves you and make it into something functional. That means it serves a purpose, it does something.
1. You must manipulate the material in some way.
1. Look in the recycling bin for some good objects to make into something if you are totally at a loss.

Here are a couple of ideas, but there are lots on the internet.

Just google what you have excess of or access to.

Better yet, come up with your own original idea:)
