

Creating innovators

Introducing intellectual property to high school entrepreneurs

Tuesday, February 23, 2021 • 6:00 – 7:30 p.m. ET • Online

February session description:

Calling all K-12 educators

STEM, STEAM, and STREAM are vital to invention, innovation, and entrepreneurship and America's competitiveness in the global marketplace.

Do your students understand the value of patents, trademarks, and copyright, and how they can relate to their budding ventures? Are you looking for engaging ways to present these topics in the classroom? In this month's USPTO K-12 educator workshop, Jelani Odum, Program Manager for the Michelson Institute for Intellectual Property (IP) will provide an overview of an "IP Week" pilot and a sharing session on lessons learned for integrating IP into the curriculum.

Register to attend this USPTO K-12 Workshop:

www.uspto.gov/learning-and-resources/kids-educators/intellectual-property-ip-workshop-k12-educators-2

Presenter:

Jelani Odum
Program Manager, The Michelson Institute for Intellectual Property

Jelani Odum is Program Manager for the Michelson Institute for Intellectual Property (Michelson IP).

Michelson IP, an initiative of the Michelson 20MM Foundation, provides access to empowering IP education for budding inventors and entrepreneurs.

UNITED STATES
PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

Follow us on social media:

