What is your favorite book series or book? That is the question I asked my classmates, teacher, and myself. There are 18 kids, 19 if you count me, and 20 including the teacher. The options I had were “Harry Potter” (the series), “Diary of a Wimpy Kid” (the series), “The Running Dream”, and “Percy Jackson” (the series). As not everyone liked those four books, or book series, I had to add another option, for those people that don’t like reading or people that had other books as their favorites. The extra option was other, and that was something everyone had to add.

I know that everyone has a favorite of something, and in this case, books. My favorite book is “Harry Potter”, and Surprisingly, it got second place. But, anyways, first place was …other!! I was shocked, but as I said, second place was “Harry Potter”. Third was a tie between “The Running Dream” and “Percy Jackson”. Last but not least was “Diary of a Wimpy Kid”. I think the reason other won was because Mrs. Eskenas has a lot more books on her library than I had on my survey, and people want a wider choice of books. Also, my books were fiction and non-fiction, and people like other genres of reading. “Diary of a Wimpy Kid” probably lost because people read it too much last year, and my guess is that it got old because I personally have never read it. What is your favorite book? If you can’t pick, you may want to go back to the library and get onto a catalog. Thank you for reading about what books were the most read in the class.
