MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Crestdale Middle Families:

I hope you and your family experienced lots of family time and relaxation during our much needed spring break!! Our students returned calm and ready for the last quarter of the school year. Please continue to support our vision by encouraging your child to remain focused and ready to complete all school work. It is crucial during these last review opportunities for our students to be punctual and in attendance daily.

We historically adjust our fourth quarter bell schedule to allow additional instructional time. As a result, the Academic Enrichment block/time is absorbed within the schedule. However, we will continue to hold clubs on Friday mornings until May 11, 2012. We are experiencing an increased number of students arriving at school before 8:00. Several students are in the building as early as 7:00. If your child has permission to enter the building, due to tutoring with a teacher, he/she must have a note from the requesting teacher. Otherwise, students will be asked to wait at the entrance until the bell rings at 8:00. Staff members are not on duty until 8:00. Therefore, we do not have adult supervision until 8:00.

This is a very busy time of the year! We are making plans for the next school year with registration, staffing, creating school calendars and coordinating year end activities. Our rising 6th grade Open House was exciting. There was so much energy and enthusiasm in this building along with approximately 300 parents and more than 250 students.

As always, thank you for your continued support of Crestdale Middle. Please reserve the date May 9th as our Volunteer Brunch. We will recognize and honor all of our parent volunteers from 8:30-10:30 am in the media center.

Thank you for all you do!

Sincerely,
Rhonda Houston

TAILGATE AT THE TRACK

Attention Crestdale Wildcats- Tailgate at the Track!!! Join us on Thursday, April 26th for the track meet against JM Robinson and Kennedy. We will have a tailgate party to help us cheer our Wildcats to victory!

The track meet will start at 4:30 pm. If a student can't get a ride back to school before 4:30 pm- no worries. There will be a supervised Study hall in the cafeteria from 3:30-

4:15 pm. Parents must sign a permission slip granting the student permission to remain after school, 3:30-4:15 pm. Permission slips will be given to students during homeroom Monday morning. At that time, teachers will share the pick-up procedures and it will be communicated with parents/community. Book bags will be locked in the cafeteria and can only be picked up at approximately 5:15 pm and right after the meet at approximately 6:15 pm.

At 4:30 pm, the festivities begin behind the school and at the track. There will be music and food for sale. Hope to see lots of Wildcats parents and students there too! The meet starts at 4:30 pm. What could be better- homework finished, a full belly, and good fellowship! GO WILDCATS!!

PARENT UNIVERSITY CLASS AT CRESTDALE MEDIA CENTER

How to Determine if Your Child is Stressed – April 24 at 6-7:30 pm

This workshop helps parents and caregivers identify the signs of an overwhelmed child and provides tips on what they can do to relieve stress.

(Submitted by Michelle Newnam, Art Teacher, michelle.newnam@cms.k12.nc.us)

THANK YOU!

Thank you to all those who volunteered for the tutoring program. I am sure the students who participated appreciated the hours you worked on vocabulary and comprehension skills. I bet they enjoyed your encouragement too. Thanks again!

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENTS

The following efforts have been brought to our attention by Crestdale Parents. We, the PTO, are bringing them to parents' attention should they want to learn more about them. We neither endorse nor denounce them.

SMART Candidate Forum announcement:

April 26th from 6-8 PM at Raintree Country Club, we (the Forum) will feature candidates from all parties running for State and County offices. These elected officials provide all funding for schools. We encourage maximum participation, as this will be a non-partisan forum prior to the May 8th Primary. District 6 County Commissioner Bill James sent out information regarding funding for suburban schools and Charter Schools, including the data showing charter schools receive more money than regular CMS suburban schools. You may learn more about the SMART committee and the funding details at <http://www.facebook.com/12.smart>.

GLIMPSE INTO THE CLASSROOMS QUARTER 4

6th GRADE

MATH

Rolling dice, flipping coins, spinning spinners are just a few of the activities the students will be doing as they explore probability. This unit brings together all of what the students have learned all year including their studies of fractions, decimals, percents, and area. Students will learn to make predictions based on experiments and on theoretical probabilities. Students will also be spending a portion of each class reviewing for the EOG, which will take place in mid-May. All students have been given an EOG practice workbook (it is orange), which they should have with them EVERY day in class. Some of the work in this booklet will be done in class, some will be assigned as homework, and some will even count as quiz grades, so it is important that the children keep up with these.

SCIENCE

During the 4th quarter, students will wrap up their study of heat, light, and sound waves. We will end our year with Ecology. Students will learn about ecosystems, biomes, food chains/food webs, and cycles of matter. We will be spending a significant amount of time reviewing all concepts covered throughout the year in preparation for the upcoming Science End of Course test in May. It is very important that students are present each day and are active participants in our EOC review.

LANGUAGE ARTS

During the fourth quarter, students will be actively reviewing all they have learned this year. Students will be challenged to use the literacy skills to analyze texts from every genre. We will also focus on understanding test questions, using the process of RUNNERS (a test taking strategy), and justifying answer choices in preparation for the EOG.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Students will continue their study of Europe and South America. We will spend the remainder of the year discovering the people and cultures of Europe. Students will uncover the religions, languages, food, dance, and daily life styles of Europeans and South Americans. Additionally, students will continue comparing these cultures with their own. While they compare these cultures, sixth grade students will evaluate how these cultures play a role globally in regards to economies, politics and social situations.

7th GRADE

MATH

Seventh grade math students will be wrapping up the school year with units on data, equations, inequalities, functions, and expressions. Honors students will focus on Algebra readiness activities for next year. In addition, all students will be engaged in activities geared toward EOG review in the five weeks we have until the EOGs. To help students prepare for the EOGs, we need your help parents! Seventh grade students need to have certain formulas memorized for the EOG. They are not always given the formulas in the question. The formulas that the students need to memorize can be found at the following website:

<http://www.iq.poquoson.org/2008vasol/7math/7math08formulasheet.htm>. The only formula that is not included that they also need to know is the Volume (V) of a triangular prism, which is: $V = (bh/2)(h)$. We have been going over these formulas in class, but it might be helpful to create flashcards at home and go over them with your child on a weekly basis. Only 5 more weeks!

SCIENCE

During the fourth quarter, your child will learn about motion, forces, and machines. By the time the students have finished this unit, they should be able to explain the following BIG ideas:

- The motion of an object can be described and predicted.
- Forces change the motion of objects in predictable ways.
- Newton's laws apply to all forces.
- Energy is transferred when a force moves an object.
- Machines help people work by changing the force applied to an object.

The BIG ideas in the chapters support an understanding of the following Unifying Principles of physical science:

- Energy changes from one form to another, but it cannot be created or destroyed.
- Physical forces affect the movement of all matter on Earth and throughout the universe.

LANGUAGE ARTS

The students will be working on various types of Poetry and will create an argumentative task that will allow them to give their perspective on a theme topic. The students will also revisit many of the objectives that will be covered on the End of Grade Test. This quarter students will prepare for the EOG by reviewing language arts concepts. Students will also participate in a literature circle. For the literature circle, students will be grouped based on the novel they select to read.

SOCIAL STUDIES

We have just concluded the study of India's path to independence led by Gandhi's philosophy of nonviolent resistance. The 4th quarter will focus on the regions of East Asia, Southeast Asia, and Australia and the Pacific Realm. This quarter will begin with the study of the history, culture, government, and economics of East Asia with a focus on China and Japan. Next, we will continue the same characteristics with Southeast Asia with a more general overall picture of the region. We will end the quarter with a study of Australia and the Pacific region.

8th GRADE

MATH

During the fourth quarter, we will focus on finishing content that has yet to be taught. We will primarily turn our attention to reviewing and preparing for the EOG (Week of May 14). Each week students will continue to be asked to complete weekly math assignments to help pinpoint and address skills and concepts that are still weak. Our hope is that these assignments will serve as an independent spiral review for the students. Please contact individual teachers if additional help or tutoring is needed. After the break, each teacher will be sharing information with parents regarding different EOG preparation opportunities.

ALGEBRA

When we return from break, we will bring closure to our study of radicals by investigating their role in the distance and midpoint formulas as well as the Pythagorean Theorem. We will conclude new content by studying statistical representation of data through matrices. Once new content is covered we will focus our attention to refreshing the students on 8th grade concepts, while also reviewing Algebra 1 concepts. Weekly Maths will continue to be assigned and will be used as a way to help the students practice and identify weak skills and concepts.

SCIENCE

During the 4th quarter students will be learning about Cells and Microbiology. Some of the topics we will be exploring are basic cell structure and function, Protists, comparing and contrasting Microbes and Pathogens. We will be spending a significant amount of time reviewing all concepts covered throughout the year in preparation for the upcoming Science EOG in May. It is very important that students are present each day and active participants in the EOG review.

LANGUAGE ARTS

As we finish up To Kill a Mockingbird, and head into fourth quarter, Language Arts will begin to review concepts in preparation for the EOGs. Students will use their data from class work, formative assessments, and the practice EOG to refine their specific skills of need. We will be breaking down EOG style questions, deconstructing passages, using process of elimination to find the correct answers, and justifying our answer choices. In addition to the practice passages, we will also be playing review games such as Bingo, Jeopardy, Four Corners, Trivia, and more.

Our fourth quarter novel study will be facilitated by students through the use of literature circles. Students will choose the novel that is most appealing and work collaboratively to discuss the literary concepts in the text, share their "AHA" moments, and produce a final product that demonstrates critical thinking and a clear synthesis of the novel. Literature circles encourage all students to take on leadership roles that display their strengths and talents in Language Arts.

SOCIAL STUDIES

We will be studying westward expansion, the Antebellum period, Civil War, Reconstruction, World War I, and World War II. We will analyze the causes and effects of these various events and time periods with Document Based Questions, Socratic Seminars, group and independent projects.

BATTLE OF THE BOOKS

Battle of the Books is a middle school reading program whose whole philosophy is to encourage students to read and to expose them to quality literature. Students are required to select titles from a 27-book reading list developed by the North Carolina School Library Media Association. In the spring of each year, some CMS middle schools participate in a competition, which revolves around the reading list.

The 2012-13 Battle of the Books List is published on the NCSLMA website, www.ncslma.org/ms-bob-info with information concerning this competition. Any students interested in competing can get a good start by reading some of these books over the summer. Even if they do not compete, these are great books for students who would like some suggestions for their summer reading pleasure!! Copies of this list are also available in the Media Center.
