

“Would You Rather” Scoring Rubric

		Points
Job 1	What they do at work each day	1
	What they can expect to earn	1
	Education or Training required	1
	Indiana company who is currently hiring these workers	1
Job 2	What they do at work each day	1
	What they can expect to earn	1
	Education or Training required	1
	Indiana company who is currently hiring these workers	1
Which of these two jobs you would rather do, including at least two reasons		3
3-Line Heading including job titles, the “week of” date, and your name; Sources mentioned; Complete Sentences; Correct Grammar		4
Total Points Possible		15

Use reliable, current sources - and cite them!!

Suggested sites to use:    glassdoor.com
 (There are many others!)    payscale.com
    truity.com
    indeed.com
    careerplanner.com
    snagajob.com

*Use the same site for both jobs if possible, so your salary numbers will be consistent.

Your Name
Web Designer or Plumber
Week of January 6, 2020

A web designer's job is to build and maintain websites, according to prospects.ac.uk. They make about $58,000 according to payscale.com. They normally need at least an Associate or Bachelor's degree. The Grossbauer Group in Chesterton, IN is currently looking to hire a web developer, according to indeed.com.

Plumbers install and repair water lines, waste disposal systems, and related appliances and fixtures, according to snagajob.com, and often need to be on call to deal with emergencies at night or on weekends. Some have their own business, but they may also work as a member of a union. They make about $46,000 per year, according to payscale.com. Licensed plumbers do not need a college education, but they need to train for several years and pass a test before receiving a license. Tradesmen, International from South Bend, IN is currently hiring plumbers according to indeed.com.

I would rather be a web designer than a plumber. I prefer going home at the end of the day to being on call. I would also rather work in a clean office instead of cleaning up messes in someone else's home.