History of Zentangles

Zentangle is an American method for drawing, which not only promotes concentration and creativity but at the same time increases personal well-being.

It was invented by a monk named Rick Roberts and an artist named Maria Thomas.

With Zentangle, they created a combination of meditation and art. This drawing method is suitable for beginners as well as for passionate hobby artists.

For the sake of simplicity, you paint in 9x9cm tiles – to reduce the complexity of the drawing process.

Through different patterns (like strokes or waves) you can see your progress within a short time.

Zentangles are made with repetition shapes often making the same movements over and over.

Zentangle consists of a combination the 5 types of line. These 5 lines are found in every pattern:

Curved: S -shaped lines, dots, and circles; lines that are always bending turning

Vertical: Lines that are straight up and down

Horizontal: Lines parallel to the horizon

Diagonal: Lines that slant
